

Perilous Adventures: the writers' accomplice

Step into Olvar Wood,
where there's always time to write

[2009 Rates Card]

Classic & hermit retreats include personal feedback on your writing (5000 words for weekenders and up to 50,000 words for week-long retreaters) and include breakfast, meetings with the mentor/s and accommodation.

Intensive retreats include an oral manuscript assessment (up to 5,000 words for weekenders, or 50,000 words for week-long retreaters), daily writing workshops, all workshop materials, individual feedback sessions, a group outing, evening readings, breakfast and lunch each day, as well as two dinners and accommodation.

Five Week Courses include four weeks of group-based teaching and mentorship, culminating in a one-week intensive retreat at Olvar Wood. In 2009, there will be courses focusing on biography, crime, literary fiction, children's and speculative fiction writing.

ACROW and SEED are intensive two-week residential writing retreats in crime (ACROW) and literary fiction (SEED). The retreats feature the input of established writers and industry professionals.

One-on-one mentorships are individually tailored to suit your needs as a writer. They are based on a schedule of two hours a week of your mentor's time.

Manuscript Development Program takes place over 12 months and is a mixture of individual and peer-based feedback and teaching, including two residential weekend retreats, participation in the writers' bookclub, membership of Friends of Olvar, participation in either online or face-to-face workshops and feedback meetings.
